

How to Write Your Testimony of Marriage Restoration

Sharing the testimony of your marriage being restored will be a powerful and encouraging message for those believing for their own marriages miracle. Below is a simple example outline on how to write and what to include in your testimony: (You DO NOT have to include all the suggested aspects in your testimony. Remember, shorter is usually better! The longer it is, the less chance people will read it.)

Paragraph 1 - Introduction of the Breakdown:

- Briefly introduce yourself and your spouse with first names only.
- Mention briefly any challenges or struggles your marriage was facing before separation or if your separation was a complete shock out of nowhere.
- Very briefly share the details of your stand. Did you separate? Get Divorced? How long were you apart?

Paragraph 2 - Your Standing Journey & Turning Point

- Did you ever struggle or doubt in believing restoration was possible? Be honest about the emotional and relational toll it took on both of you.
- Discuss any steps you took in your stand that brought hope, faith, and healing to your marriage.
- Highlight any counseling, communication improvements, or spiritual growth that occurred
- Share the breakthrough moments or instances when you began to see positive changes.

Paragraph 3 - Divine Intervention & The Restoration:

- Share if God and your faith played a role your marriage restoration? If so, how?
- Mention any prayers, scriptures, guidance, standing ministries that you sought during the process.
- Describe the moment or series of events that led to the restoration in your marriage.
- Describe the process of reconciliation and rebuilding trust between you and your spouse.
- Highlight the positive changes, growth, and renewed love you both experienced.

Paragraph 4 - Conclusion: Gratitude & Encouragement for Others:

- End your testimony with a word of hope and a reminder that restoration is possible.
- Offer words of encouragement and hope for those still waiting for their marriages to be restored.
- Provide 1 practical key or lessons learned from your experience.
- Express gratitude to God, friends, family, or anyone who supported you during this journey.
- Thank your spouse for their efforts and commitment to healing.
- Encourage readers to never lose faith and to trust in God's timing and plan for their own marriages.

Remember to keep your testimony sincere, authentic, and focused on the positive outcome. Avoid oversharing intimate or sensitive details that may not be appropriate for a public audience. You don't need to hide or ignore what happened, though you must also make sure it is honoring to your spouse. But also know that specific details of your story will indeed bring radical hope to others when they can relate with your specific journey and events. Ultimately, the goal is to inspire and encourage others to believe for their own marriages to be restored through your shared experiences and journey.
